Imperial Theatre

Wednesday, April 23 at 7 p.m.

A movie at Imperial Theatre — now there's a blast from the past! Experience one of the greatest films of all time set against the backdrop of Saint John's grandest venue.

Casablanca (1942) is a masterful tale of two men vying for the same woman's love during the wartime conflict between democracy and totalitarianism. Rick (Humphrey Bogart) is the disillusioned owner of a bar in Morocco where refugees waiting for exit visas gather. By a twist of fate, his former lover Ilsa (Ingrid Bergman) and her husband Victor (Paul Henreid), both resistance fighters fleeing the Nazis, end up in Rick's café. A superb musical score, unforgettable characters, and memorable dialogue combine to make Casablanca an iconic film that continues to rank as one of the all-time greats.

There's more! Dress like the stars in your 1940s vintage garb, enter our Bogie and Bergman Look Alike Contest, and help us raise even more dollars! Our judges will pick the top contestants at intermission when you get to strut your stuff. The Bogie and Bergman who raise the most cash will be declared the winners at "Rick's Café" as part of the post-movie event! This is a fundraiser, so ticket sales and all proceeds raised will go to support Imperial Theatre, a not-for-profit, registered charity.

Don't let time go by a moment longer — call the Box Office at 674-4100 and get your ticket now. Tickets: $17.50 each, general admission . . . includes the post-movie event.
